

STEWART'S QUESTION.

Ever since Windom became Secretary of the Treasury he has been masquerading as a friend of silver, while in reality he is the tool of the New York gold bugs. Senator Stewart tore off his disguise when he asked the following question:

If Secretary Windom is friendly to silver, why is he advocating further legislation leading to the purchase of more silver, while he refuses to purchase what the law now authorizes?

Instead of answering the question, the vulnerable Secretary got mad—a clean proof that he was squirming under Stewart's exposure.

The men of the West have been betrayed bodily by Harrison and Windom on the silver question. It is clearly their own fault if they are ever betrayed again by a Republican President.

The silver-producing States have more votes on their hands than New York State if they only have the nerve to send men to the next National Convention who will unite on what they want and fight to the finish for it.

Meanwhile, decisive action must be taken before Congress adjourns, or we will get no silver legislation. The gold men are still very active in their fight for delay, and their fair prognostications regarding silver are only bluffs to keep the people quiet until the session of Congress expires and the single standard men have another breathing spell.

The APPEAL hopes to see the press of the State unite on calling for action on the part of the Nevada Silver Association.

With the proper management, the whole United States can be made to speak on this question in a way that will leave no uncertainty in the minds of Congress as to the wishes of a majority of the voters of the country.

COAST NEWS.

Recent rich quartz discoveries at Barker, Mont., are creating great excitement among miners.

Mrs. Amanda A. Branham, who went to San Jose in 1846, died in that city Sunday, aged seventy-six.

John Mitchell, the Oceanside Post-master, is under arrest for sending obscene letters through the mails.

H. A. Moses, sixty-two years old, a clerk in the office of the Superintendent of Public Education at Sacramento, died Saturday from gangrene superinduced by an in-growing toe-nail.

Walter H. Yall, who was bitten by a Gila monster last week near Tucson, is now out of danger. Yall was riding on horseback when he saw the reptile. He dismounted and attacked it and supposing he had killed it tied it behind his saddle. Shortly afterward he threw his hand back and the jaws of the reptile closed on it and had to be opened with a stick.

Unscrupulous Stanley.

LONDON, May 5.—Following Stanley's book, "In Darkest Africa," Mr. Sephton's book will appear. This work will describe nine months' life with Emin in the absence of Stanley, besides giving another view of the expedition. Jepson writes in a tone much friendlier to Stanley than Bonny's narrative, probably because he knows a good deal more than Bonny did.

The latter's book, covering the period of the terrible months of starvation and fighting in the camp at Aruwihmi, blames Stanley for the disastrous loss of life which occurred during this part of the expedition, and holds up the great explorer as an unscrupulous adventurer, reckless of the lives of his colleagues, and as a braggart who suppresses truth for the sake of glorifying himself.

The Carson APPEAL has suspended publication—that is, we presume so, as no copy of the paper has reached this office during the past week.—Times-Review.

In a few weeks, Major, you will probably get two dozen all in a bunch, the same as our Empire subscribers.
